HEARING RESUMED.

Special Policeman's Trial on Charge of Intoxication.

The hearing in the case of Special Policeman F. P. Lewis, whose trial on charges of intoxication was begun before Trial Officer Pugh yesterday, as published in The Star, was resumed today. A number of witnesses were examined by Attorney Mc-Nally for the defense. Most of the business men in the neighborhood of 15th street and New York avenue, where the officer does duty in connection with the street railroad traffic, were examined. They had railroad traffic, were examined. They had seen him frequently; had conversed with him, and had never seen any reason to suspect that he was a drinking man. Each of these witnesses gave him an excellent name, and one of them said had refused to take a drink with him one cold day.

Representative Hinrichsen of Illinois, who had observed the policeman's conduct, said he regarded him as a remarkably good officer. Mr. Lewis, he said, had always been attentive to duty when he observed him, and he had also been very obliging.

The defense also examined several with 5 Stores, 11 7th n.e. 3d & Md. av. n.e. Henry Morris Husband of this city was

AFFAIRS IN GEORGETOWN.

Local News Items Gathered West of Rock Creek. The practical destruction of the Gay

Street Baptist Church by fire, as published in The Star yesterday, did not prevent the holding of the regular revival services last night. The Congress Street M. P. Church and the Dumbarton Avenue M. E. Church tendered the pastor of the Gay Street Church, Rev. W. S. O. Thomas, the use of their churches for the holding of services until the congregation could secure some suitable place. The offer of the Congress

Street Church was accepted. Mary Honesty, an aged colored woman, died this morning at 3 o'clock at the residance of her daughter, 1632 33d street, just below M street. As death occurred with-out medical attendance the police were called in. The woman was about ninety-five years of age, and was born in Montgomery county, Md., coming to this city shortly after the war, and remaining here all of the time. She was apparently well yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock, when she went to a grocery store and secured some coal oil. About midnight she was taken sick, and although several doctors were summoned, it is said, none responded. Death is supposed to have been caused by general debility and old age. All of the pupils of the public schools of Georgetown have been notified that they would not be permitted to attend the classes until they had been vaccinated, this pre-caution being taken as a matter of safety, owing to the presence of smallpox in the city. The calidren are required in some of the schools to produce a certificate from a physician showing that vaccination has been properly performed. The result of the order keeps away some children from the school who have not undergone the opera-

Policeman Furr was summoned to the residence of Mrs. Keefe, at 3324 O street, this morning about 930 o'clock, where a fire had been discovered. He entered the place and found the blaze the result of a defec-tive flue. It had gained but little headway, and the fire was put out without turning

Leonard Thrift, a six-year-old white child, while coasting down 34th street between Prospect avenue and M street yesterday afternoon about 1:30 o'clock ran into the horse of Policeman C. C. Pearce, at 34th and M streets. The animal, frightened by the collision, reared and kicked, the iron shoe striking the boy in the face. The little sufferer was removed to the Georgetown University Hospital in the patrol wagon of ROCKVILLE, Md., February 10.-The home of Sheriff Horton G. Thompson, situated about a mile and a half west of Gaith. ersburg, was completely destroyed by fire about 8 o'clock last evening. The fire origthat id in one of the upstairs rooms, and is supposed to have caught from an overheated stove. Only the lower floor furniture was saved "The property was valued at $2,000, upon which there was an insurance of $1,200.

BOYS OFFER INDIGNITIES. Major Sylvester's Circular of Instruc tions to Police. Major Sylvester, chief of police, has is sued the following circular for the benefit of members of the police force:

"Report comes from the State Department again," says the major, "to the effect that members of a foreign legation have received indignishes at the hands of boys. In this instance the boys snowballed the minister from Portugal in the vicinity of Connecticut avenue and M street. Of course boys do not select subjects for this work, but do their snowballing indiscriminately. Attention is called to a previous circular on this subject."

The above was read yesterday at all the stations in the city.

Brotherhood Banquet. A most enjoyable evening was spent at Trinity M. E. Church Wednesday night, the occasion being a banquet given by the Brotherhood of the church. Dr. J. W. Hodges acted as toastmaster, and the toasts were responded to as follows: "Methodist Quickstep of the Twentieth Century," Rev. J. Fred Helsse; "The Layman from the Standpoint of the Minister," Rev. Stowell Bryant, and "Trinity M. E. Church Brotherhood," Rev. E. S. Huntley, pastor of Trinity. The banquet was in charge of the social committee, composed of A. A. Chepin, chairman, and Messrs. Shade, Belt and Dr. R. C. Williams, Much credit is due these gentlemen for the pleasthe occasion being a banquet given by the

HOUR WITH LONGFELLOW. Children Given a Treat at Jefferso

A large audience, composed for the greater part of children, spent "An Hour With Longfellow" at the Jefferson School last evening. Mr. C. N. Thompson, principal of Greenleaf School, delivered a lecture on the above theme. He referred to the birth of Longfellow almost ninety-two years ago in a plain house in Portland, Me., and said, in part: The house still stands, but, instead of serving as one of the monuments to the babe it sheltered, it has passed into the babe it sheltered, it has passed into the hands of those who use it as a tenement house. When a boy of thirteen Longfellow wrote his first poem, 'The Battle of Lewell's Pond,' a description of a fight which occonnection with his new position, he spent How to Obtain a Fair Com four years traveling in various European countries."

After quoting copiously from many of Longfellow's poems, various incidents of which were illustrated by lantern slides thrown on a large screen, the lecturer, again speaking of Longfellow, said: "He could touch the chords of daily experience and find sweetness and beauty in the commonplace everyday life. He always struck monplace, every-day life. He always struck the happy medium between the highest and lowest notes, and gave to us a sweet harmony that strikes a responsive chord in every human heart. He has written but little that does not contain the charm of poetry and little that has failed to find a hearty welcome in every intelligent house-hold. Of his popularity as poet it is enough to know that some of his poems have been translated into seventeen languages, 'Ex-celsior' and 'Hiawatha' having the widest

A POLICEMAN'S DUTY.

Right to Eject People Only in Case of Disorder.

George F. Smith was the name given by a young man arrested late last night by Policeman Johnson on a charge of disorderly conduct in a saloon on 9th street. The officer made the arrest on complaint of the saloonkeeper, who stated that Smith had been disorderly. Policeman Johnson said the young man was under the influence of liquor and disputed his authority to eject him from the saloon. Judge Kimball informed the officer that Smith's dispute was well founded. It is not the duty of an officer, the judge told him, to eject people from saloons unless they are disorderly. When people become obnoxious in a saloon it is the privilege of the proprietor to eject them. Should a breach of the peace result then it is the duty of the police to take a hand in the trouble. The young man was discharged.

THE NEW MASONIC TEMPLE.

Sketch Plans Made of What Will Be Credit to the City.

Chief Engineer G. W. Baird, U. S. N. chairman of the committee having charge of the plans for the building of the Masonic Temple, said to a Star reporter today that his committee has already produced sketch plans for the new temple, but could settle on nothing definite until the site was agreed upon.

"We have," said Mr. Baird, "outgrown the old temple, and must have a larger building. We prefer a quieter location, with sufficient adjacent ground to enable us to form our parades. Our building, when erected, will not be ostentatious, but will, nevertheless, be a credit to the na-tional capital. The grand encampment of Knights Tamplar will hold their future conclaves here. We are providing for them as well as the Grand Chapter, the Eastern Star, etc. Washington is already recognized as the great educational and social as well as political center of the republic."

WILL OPEN POST OFFICE AT ILOILO. Acting Postmaster General Heath Extending the Service.

The administration of the postal service in Cuba, Porto Rico and the Philippines is being well advanced in the plans for reorganization and installation of modern methods.

William H. Elliott of Newcastle, Ind., who has been appointed by Acting Postmaster General Heath director of posts of Porto Rico, with functions similar to an assistant postmaster general, will leave Wednesday for San Juan to assume charge. He will have a personal staff of two or three assistants, including Juan Enrique Macias, a native Cuban and nephew of the noted Cuban chieftain, Gen. Macias, and Lee Nixon, now private secretary to Representative Overstreet of Indiana. Macias is well posted in West Indian affairs. He left Cuba for political reasons during the revolution, and has been identified with the Cuban junta here, which warmly indorsed him.

Ten postal employes are now on their way to the Philippines to aid Director of Posts Vaille in establishing a modern service. This number includes seven regular bonded post office clerks and three railway mail service experts. They carry important instructions, and, among other things, are directed to open up the post office at Hollo. One of their first duties probably will be re-storing the postal service at Cavite.

The commission which has been investi-gating postal affairs in Cuba met here today, and is going over its report which will be presented to Postmaster General Emory Smith in a few days. The most consp yous feature of the report will be a recom-mendation for placing all the principal post offices in Cuba, about twenty in number the hands of American postmasters, the present Spanish appointees who are is charge of them to be retained as clerks This policy will facilitate the installation of American modern postal methods for the island.

Provisions for Copyrighting.

The following is the text of the copyright provision of the legislative appropriation bill: "That on and after July 1, 1899, no person shall be entitled to a copyright unless the copies deposited with the librarian of Congress of such copyright, book or other article, or the photograph deposited of the fine arts shall be of such a substantial and permanent paper or substance, and ink or impression as shall be according to such standard as shall be from time to time established and approved by the said li-

The provision has been passed over for the present until other parts of the bill are passed upon. It has attracted considerable attention of publishers within the last few days because of its possible effects. To Blot Out Polygamy.

To the Editor of The Evening Star: From a careful reading of the opinion of Judge Edmunds on the case of Brigham H. Roberts, the polygamist representative-elect from the premature state of Utah, so lucidly expressed through the columns of The Star a few days ago, it appears there exists no remedy for this or any similar case. save in the doubtful and not always available expedient of "expulsion."

This being the case, therefore, let us have a constitutional amendment, to the effect that polygamy shall be thus pro-hibited in this country and in all of its territorial possessions, and that no person vio lating any of its provisions shall be eligible to hold any office of profit or trust, federal, state, county or municipal, within the jurisdiction or territory of the United

This will not be an infringement upon their peculiar "religion" itself, as it is not claimed, we believe, that polygamy forms any part of their religious creed to be observed, but is only an exalted "privilege" accorded to the more highly favored and deserving "saints." Evidently, in the estimation of a decent public sentiment, it is about time this pagan stigma upon the common civilization of this closing century was blotted out, and not handed over intact as an inseason, assisted by Mrs. Aldrich, Mrs. Pratt, Mrs. Leadley and Mrs. George Hilsult to the Christian sentiment of the oncoming generations. Let it, therefore, be constitutionally prohibited and condemned, at the earliest possible period, with some such penalties as herein suggested February 10, 1530. Our Railway Bonds in Germany.

The State Department has received from Consul Brodowski, at Solingen, the translation of a clipping from the Internationale Volkswirt of Berlin, a paper considered an authority in all matters pertaining to national economy, in regard to the future of American railroad values in Germany. The American railroad values in Germany. The consul says that since 1803 these bonds have not enjoyed a good reputation in Germany; public opinion, however, has been gradually changing in their favor. The article in question—an exhaustive review of the American railway situation—may be considered the consultant and the second considered consultant and the second considered consultant and the second consu considered, the consul says, a rehabilitati of the stock in Germany.

Pond, a description of a fight which occurred near a small pond in the vicinity of his father's house between the Indians and whites. His great delight upon seeing his poem in print at once aroused a feverish desire to read it, to be sure it was really his own, and just as he had written it.
